Fun ways to learn more about Ostriches.

An Interactive Experience

The core of our services is the ability of the guests to interact with the animals, not just observe them. Visitors can either pet, feed or get a selfie with the animals, depending on the species. That way, they can come really close to the animals and develop a bond with the nature and the animal kingdom. It is a unique lifetime experience for every single guest!

There are more than 15 different animal species that you can interact with, including ostriches, lemurs, camel, llamas, donkeys, ponies, deers, wild boars.

The guests see and play with the animals, literally within a breathing distance. They have fun, learn, laugh and take pictures for more than 45 minutes. An unforgettable experience only in Farma of Rhodes Petting Zoo!

Additionally, for their own convenience, guests get a leaflet at the entrance including some instructions regarding how to better interact with the animals. At the same time, the Farma's host is ready to help them with their tour in the Farma.

Ostrich Interaction Zone

Apart from the general interactive experience we have given to the whole Farma, we created an interaction zone especially with ostriches. Guests can enter the zone with the guidance of the staff supervisor and interact with ostriches. The guests can pet them, feed them and play with them from really really close. At the same time, they learn useful information about the life and the habits of the ostriches.

Considered that these ostriches are familiar with the human presence, it is totally safe, even for small children!

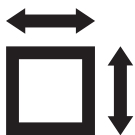

A family Business with love and passion.

Farma of Rhodes Petting Zoo is a traditional family business, founded by Georgia and George Kalafatas back in 2000. Now the staff of the Farma includes their children and nephews. John, the elder son, who is now the general manager, spent his childhood in the Farma and then studied Animal Production. Nikos, the second son, studied Animal Production at the American Farm School of Thessaloniki and among his responsibilities is the daily care of the animals. Finally, the youngest son Angelos, is studying Agribusiness Management at the American Farm School of Thessaloniki and he is the manager of the restaurant.

The family's goals for the Farma is to create something unique that is not limited to ostrich production but extends to the creation a rich experience for the guests, with love and respect to the animals.
